As we prepare for 2018, here are a few reminders:

- The call for papers deadline is extended until 31 January 2018. Please consider submitting a proposal on any of the three relevant areas: Innovation, Collaboration, Learners. Visit the conference webpage to learn more on how you can submit a proposal.
- The registration for the conference will open in January 2018 and don't forget to register before the early bird discount expires. IACEE members receive further discounts.
